Passover and Feast Next Week

With Passover three days away, we pray that you are preparing to be with us Monday night in person or join the live Webcast of the Passover Memorial. All who are immersed into Yahshua's

Name are welcome to partake. The first high day of Unleavened Bread will begin at sunset March 30 and continue through sunset April 6. All leavening should be out of your home by sunset March 30. See our site for a list of leavening agents, where you can also find unleavened recipes suitable for the Feast:

May Yahweh bless you as you remember the sin penalty that Yahshua paid for us and all who will accept it by His suffering and death.

YRM Publications Poised for a Quantum Leap

With the delivery of a new color press/booklet making machine, the publications coming out of Yahweh's Restoration Ministry will take on a more professional and attractive appearance. It was apparent that to continue our black-and-white printing was old school and that to make a greater impact for Yahweh we needed not only rock-solid, effective writing, but also an appearance that does greater justice to the glory of Yahweh. Full color was the next logical step. And our 8-year-old black-and-white workhorse printer had seen better days. We barely got the latest March-April newsletter printed before the printer gave up for exhaustion. The solution came with this new Konica Bizhub machine that does everything but trim the finished piece and cook your dinner. With full-color capability and more illustrations to entice the reader, enhancement of all of our printed pieces should follow. After the three-year lease is up we can purchase the unit for a fraction of its new price. We praise Yahweh for this solution and we look forward to saving time and printing frustration as we publish the Truth for our Father in heaven expeditiously. This piece of equipment can staple and fold up to an 80 page full-color booklet or magazine. We have thrown around the idea of pursuing a quarterly magazine once we complete our office building, will will see where Yahweh leads us...

Building Construction Begins Anew

Those who have visited YRM's facility in Holts Summit know how we are squeezed for space on all sides. Thus we are constructing an adjunct building as a multifunction space to house offices, TV studio, and press room. Recently, Bros. Ryan Mansager and Steve Reed took a day to restart construction halted last autumn and work again on enclosing the structure entirely. We plan to do much more when the ground dries and rains slow. We praise Yahweh for those who appreciate this need and have helped with donations for the construction.

The Cursed Ground

In Genesis 3:17-19 Yahweh curses the ground because of man's sin. "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread," he is told. Except for an extraordinary effort, he would starve as the ground would naturally bring forth thorns and thistles. Question: When was this curse supposed to be lifted?

- A) Never.
- B) At the Second Coming of the Messiah.
- C) At the time of Adam's death.
- D) Before Noah died.

At the birth of Noah (whose name means "rest"), it was prophesied that in his time mankind would be comforted from the curse of the ground (Gen 5:29). After the flood, Yahweh declares, "I will not again curse the ground any more for man's sake" (Gen 8:21) Prior to Noah's time there never was rain on the earth and crops were watered by a mist, Genesis 2:6. Today, rain in due season is considered a blessing within reach for a righteous nation. If life is hard as we know it today imagine how hard it must have been when the ground was cursed! Answer: (D)
